

The Long Firm's Flag Flies Over Mt. Kilimanjaro

JUNE 2012

The Long Firm, LLP was a primary sponsor for the funding of an expedition to the top of Africa's Mt. Kilimanjaro to benefit injured veterans. In this effort two college students, West Point Cadet Jay Long and Kate Wharton of Georgia Tech University organized a climb to one of the world's highest peaks, Mt. Kilimanjaro. On June 23, 2012 Cadet Long and Kate Wharton paired up with two returning injured veterans from the Iraq and Afghanistan wars and summited this storied mountain on the organization's pilot expedition. With their first climb now under its belt, Trek for Our Troops intends to continue to raise needed funds for our returning injured veterans. It is the goal of each "Trek" to present two returning veterans with a physical challenge which they, along with their fellow servicemen, can achieve, and look to as a tangible representation of their first step on their road to rehabilitation and reintegration into the civilian sector.

